Platinum Bushvelder newspaper – South Africa is redesigning its electricity market. Before the chairs are rearranged, the person paying for the meeting is now invited to comment on two documents that could reshape how electricity is bought, sold and billed and all the complexities that comes with it.

Meet PP: the Powerless Payer.

He is the guy who has a reliable address for the invoice. Public comments on the Revised Electricity Pricing Policy, 2026, and the Electricity Sector Market Transformation Position Paper, 2026, close on 28 October 2026.

Competition arrives.

Does your household get a ticket?

The market paper proposes competition between generators, including Eskom, with traders and eligible customers buying electricity through a wholesale market or direct contracts. The ambition is better efficiency, investment and, ultimately, lower costs. But households and smaller businesses would initially remain with their existing electricity retailer. The paper calls them “captive” customers. Larger eligible users would gain more choice, with eligibility expanding over time. Captive. An interesting choice of word for the guest of honour at a competition launch. So, the question is practical: how will cheaper wholesale electricity reach the household that cannot shop around?

The electricity is cheaper.

The delivery has a family to feed.

Electricity has a production cost and a delivery cost. In a typical municipal supply chain, electricity generators (Eskom) supply power, transmission carries it over the main grid, and distribution brings it to customers. The municipality also buys and bills for electricity. A private generator can sell to an eligible buyer directly or through a trader, using those same networks, or their own network, subject to the applicable approvals. A trader can manage purchases and supply risks; its service must earn its keep. It is not compulsory in every transaction. Nor does every generator need to build duplicate power lines. Shared wires make sense... on paper that is... provided access is fair and charges are justified.

The pricing draft requires NERSA-approved network charges. Wheeling – using the grid to deliver contracted electricity – must not be subsidised by non-wheeling customers.

Costs include the generation of electricity, network delivery; capacity and balancing; retail administration; and applicable subsidies, legacy costs and municipal surcharges amongst other costs. Depending on the connection and service, bills can also involve connection costs, losses, wheeling or export-credit administration, and poor-power-factor or congestion charges. Some costs are bundled; they must not be counted twice.

The generator earns from power, network operators from delivery, and retailers or traders from their services. Customers benefit when the complete delivered bill falls. A bargain at the power station is only the beginning of the calculation.

Who gets the discount—and who gets the difference?

The draft does not promise to reimburse every bad decision. It expressly says revenue recovery is not guaranteed and pricing should exclude inefficiency. Excess losses and bad debt above approved standards should be excluded from recoverable revenue.

But there are important qualifications. Legacy power-contract costs would be reconciled against revenues. Some balancing shortfalls could be recovered through charges. And the section on negotiated pricing agreements allows certain approved special-price deals to produce revenue shortfalls recoverable through the regulatory process.

Such deals may protect jobs and keep businesses operating. That does not make their cost disappear. Publish the expected benefit, the shortfall, who pays it, and for how long. A discount must come with an address for the balance.

Eskom has also received substantial government debt relief. That debt relief will ten-to-one not be available for private electricity generators. That loss might find its way to your bill.

A basic charge is not a basic question

A grid costs money to keep available even when a customer uses little electricity. Fixed charges are not entirely new. But a single mother in a small flat and several households in the backyard of another customer with one meter raise different affordability questions. The draft proposes a lifeline tariff with no fixed charge for qualifying customers. The public should demand workable eligibility rules.

Put power nearby. Keep responsibility closer.

Well-sited solar directly supplying a mine, shopping centre, factory or residential development can shorten the electrical route, reduce associated losses and avoid some new lines across neighbouring land. Already-developed sites can reduce land disturbance. Systems can grow with demand. Siting, drainage, fire precautions, batteries and eventual removal still matter. The supplier and buyer should take explicit responsibility for the risks that comes with their “Bargain electricity supply deal”. Neither party should leave neighbours as unpaid insurers.

Fund the clean-up and the damages before cutting the ribbon

Our proposal: coordinated scrutiny by NERSA and the relevant environmental authority, including DFFE where it is responsible, within their respective mandates.

THE POWERLESS PAYER

wants a seat at the table, not just the bill

A watchdog needs teeth, not another acronym

The proposed safeguards include transparent bills, separate accounts, NERSA oversight, market surveillance and action against anti-competitive conduct. Municipal surcharges must not simply be piled on top of existing hidden surpluses. Now for implementation: publish cost studies, disclose conflicts, audit charges, protect maintenance funding and impose consequences for abuse. “Loot, neglect, invoice” is in many cases the business model currently in place. And now put an extra burden on top of that which is already difficult to manage?

Publish understandable evidence on site alternatives, community impacts and financial provision, while protecting legitimately confidential information. Require independently costed provision for environmental damages, loss of property value, regularly updated financial security for rehabilitation and removal, plus suitable cover for foreseeable damage.

It is one thing to assess potential impacts on neighbouring properties and the environment while not being willing to take any responsibility for those impacts. A report saying that your property might devalue or that you promise to clean up is not money in the bank. All this should be done before the development gets approval. Environmental duties already exist.

The question is whether protection remains enforceable and funded if the project company fails.

Pull up a chair before the bill arrives

These consultations give the payer a chance to influence the rules. Ask who benefits, who bears each risk, who checks the numbers, and what happens when the promises fail. Platinum Bushvelder will post both documents at www.platinumbushvelder.co.za. Read them and submit your comments by 28 October 2026. PP should stand for Public Participation. The invoice already knows where you live. Make sure the policymakers hear from you, too.

Have your say: two documents, two submissions

The extended deadline for both documents is 28 October 2026. The official extension specifies no closing time. Send your comments ahead of the date; do not assume a midnight deadline.

Two crashes, eight injured on Thabazimbi roads

Platinum Bushvelder newspaper | Thabazimbi – Eight people were injured in two separate crashes in and around Thabazimbi on Friday 2 and Saturday 3 October 2026, with one vehicle catching fire and local farmers stepping in to help prevent the flames from spreading. Thaba Fire & Rescue received a call at approximately 19:30 on Friday about a crash at the Makoppa junction on the Dwaalboom road, roughly 20 km outside Thabazimbi. The exact cause remains unknown, although it is suspected that the driver lost control of the vehicle. The vehicle caught fire after the impact, and swift action by members of the Makoppa and Matlabas farming communities helped prevent the fire from spreading to the surrounding veld. Of the four occupants, two sustained minor injuries, one sustained moderate injuries, and one was seriously injured. The following afternoon, shortly after 17:30, two vehicles collided head-on at the four-way intersection of Hamerkop and Krombek streets in Thabazimbi. All four occupants sustained minor injuries. Thaba Fire & Rescue, Thabazimbi EMS, the Thabazimbi Traffic Department, Thabazimbi SAPS and P&K Towing and Recovery responded to both incidents, with local farmers also assisting at Friday's scene.

One of the two vehicles involved in Saturday's head-on collision at the intersection of Hamerkop and Krombek streets in Thabazimbi.

Smoke rises from the burnt-out vehicle following Friday evening's crash at the Makoppa junction on the Dwaalboom road.

R510: The meeting is over. When does the work begin?

Platinum Bushvelder newspaper | Thabazimbi – For motorists who use the R510 between Northam and Thabazimbi, news that the long-delayed road project is moving forward will be welcome. The urgent question is when work on the road will begin. On Wednesday, 23 September 2026, the South African National Roads Agency (SANRAL) met with Thabazimbi Local Municipality to discuss the project's status, upcoming activities and the way forward. The municipality said the project was set to resume and called for continued coordination so that residents would be kept informed. The concerns are immediate. Residents have reported potholes, missing road shoulders and inadequate signage on the unfinished route. Thaba Fire and Rescue recorded 38 crashes between 1 July and 31 August 2025, including a head-on collision on 31 August in which two people died. On 22 January 2026, a driver died in another head-on collision on the R510, this time with a bus carrying schoolchildren. These reports confirm at least three deaths in the period from 1 July 2025 to 22 January 2026; they do not establish a total death toll for the road. Government statistics are not available. More recent incidents underline the urgency: a driver died in a fiery head-on collision on the R510 near the Crocodile Bridge on 25 September 2026, and a pedestrian was killed on the same road opposite Thaba Trans in the early hours of 26 September. Five occupants of the other vehicle in the head-on collision, including two children, were taken to hospital, while a second pedestrian sustained moderate injuries. SANRAL announced in August that it expected construction to begin in October 2026, following mobilisation during August and September, with completion anticipated by 30 November 2027. Its published plans cover the R510 from the North West–Limpopo border through Northam to Bierspruit. The 23 September meeting brought together municipal representatives, including EXCO member cllr Tokkie Swanepoel and technical services director Stephen Mogapi, and a SANRAL delegation led by Limpopo provincial head Madoda Mthembu. Representatives of Blueprint and Lebaka Construction also attended. Platinum Bushvelder will continue monitoring the project.

Municipal and SANRAL representatives met on 23 September 2026 to discuss the R510 project's next steps.

YOUR TYRES DON'T STOP LIGHTNING! Your car's rubber tyres do not protect you from lightning. In a fully enclosed vehicle with a metal roof and sides, the outer metal shell conducts the electrical current around the occupants and towards the ground. Keep the windows closed and avoid touching exposed metal or plugged-in electrical devices. Convertibles and open vehicles do not offer the same protection. A strike can still damage tyres, windows and electronics – so while the car may help protect you, it could need more than a service afterwards!

Rhinos outmuscle Wolves to reach Gold Cup quarter-finals

Platinum Bushvelder newspaper | Northam – The Northam Rhinos kept their Gold Cup campaign charging ahead with a 42–24 victory over the Northam Wolves at Bushveld Park, Setaria, on Saturday 3 October 2026.

The Rhinos’ first team took to the field at 16:00 for the Pick n Pay SA Rugby Gold Cup clash, emerging with an 18-point winning margin and a place in the quarter-finals. Outside centre Pule Molokomme, wearing the number 13 jersey, earned the man-of-the-match honours, adding an individual highlight to a result worth celebrating.

The Rhinos now turn their attention to Brakpan Rugby Club, whom they will face at Bosman Stadium on Saturday 10 October 2026. The first-team quarter-final kicks off at 16:00.

With a place in the semi-finals at stake, the Rhinos have another big afternoon ahead. Supporters, mark your calendars and get behind the team as their Gold Cup journey continues!

Van Thabazimbi tot Italië Xander skop sy pad na die wêreldverhoog

Platinum Bushvelder koerant | Thabazimbi – Om Suid-Afrika se kleure te dra, is ’n besondere prestasie. Vir die jong Xander Pretorius het dié eer onlangs ’n werklikheid geword toe hy aan die WAKO-jeugwêreldkampioenskappe vir skopboks in Italië deelgeneem het. Die kampioenskappe het van 18 tot 27 September 2026 in Jesolo plaasgevind en jong skopbokkers van regoor die wêreld byeengebring.

Xander het in die o.12-afdeling vir deelnemers onder 42 kg meegeding. Hy was een van 47 jong Suid-Afrikaanse skopbokkers wat gekies is om hul land te verteenwoordig, en een van drie Suid-Afrikaanse deelnemers in sy kategorie.

Volgens die verskafte ranglysposisies beklee hy die volgende plekke:

- PF 022 YS M -42 kg: 17de op die wêreldranglys en derde in Suid-Afrika.
- CF 244 YC M -42 kg: 10de op die wêreldranglys en derde in Suid-Afrika.
- MF 214 YC M HSW: Negende op die wêreldranglys en eerste in Suid-Afrika.

Dié posisies, met twee plekke onder die wêreld se top-10 in sy onderskeie kategorieë, gee Thabazimbi heelwat rede om trots te wees.

Agter sy deelname lê ure se oefening, dissipline en deurstellingsvermoë. Sy pa, Chris Pretorius, is ook sy sensei – ’n besondere familieverbintenis in ’n sport wat harde werk en toewyding vra. Xander keer met waardevolle internasionale ervaring terug huis toe en wys dat ’n jong sporttalent uit Thabazimbi sy plek op die wêreldverhoog kan inneem.

Thabazimbi se jong skopbokstalent Xander Pretorius saam met sy pa en sensei, Chris Pretorius. Xander het Suid-Afrika by die WAKO-jeugwêreldkampioenskappe in Italië verteenwoordig.

Johan mik hoog en skiet sy beste!

Platinum Bushvelder koerant | Thabazimbi – Johan Badenhorst van Hoërskool Frikkie Meyer het ’n 11de plek behaal én sy persoonlike beste geskiet tydens die SA Luggeweerskietkampioenskappe, wat van 26 September tot 1 Oktober 2026 in Bloemfontein plaasgevind het. Die nasionale byeenkoms bring jong skuts van regoor die land bymekaar, waar konsentrasie en presisie die deurslag gee. ’n Trotse prestasie vir Johan en sy skool!
